

About our founder: Colleen Albright

Colleen Albright is the founder, president and CEO of Southeast Mich.-based culturecliQ, LLC. CulturecliQ is a breakthrough, web-based recruiting method that connects candidates and companies based on the nature of the company's culture and the environment the candidate is seeking.

Albright brings more than twenty years of executive level human resource management and consulting experience to her role, including positions with Plunkett Cooney, R.L. Polk & Co. and The Albrecht Companies. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management from Madonna University. Albright is an expert on a number of trends affecting hiring today, including the recruiting process, effective corporate cultures, how companies are differentiating themselves to attract and retain talent, millennial cultural work preferences, and trends affecting the talent pool.

Albright's executive experience sparked the realization that company culture is the key to recruiting and retaining quality employees, and discovered a severe need for an innovative recruiting method to match workers to companies based on their culture preferences. She founded culturecliQ in 2015, based on the principle that people are more than the words on their resume and that companies care about more than the bottom line.
